

---

Judge EuiYoung Lee from Seoul High Court, South Korea Visited the School of Law and Delivered A Speech to International Students

On 24 October 2019, Invited by the School of Law, Judge EuiYoung Lee from Seoul High Court, South Korea visited the School of Law and delivered a speech to International students of our International Law Program. Before the speech started, Vice-Dean Professor Su Xinjiang met Judge Lee and made a brief introduction of the School of Law and the International Law Program.

Judge EuiYoung Lee has been a Judge of South Korea since 2003. She has been sitting at various district courts in South Korea and working for Research Division at Supreme Court of South Korea. Since 2019, she has been sitting at the bench dedicated to international trade cases at Seoul High Court, South Korea. Judge Lee got her LLB, LLM and Ph.D from Seoul National University and an LLM degree from Cambridge University.

In her speech entitled as 'Legal Issues in International Trade – Recent Disputes before the Court in Practices' , Judge Lee discussed three issues of international trade disputes, including the governing law, recognition & enforcement of foreign judgments and customs & tax matters. In the speech, she also used several cases she dealt with during the past years in person. During the Q & A session, students from our International Law Program and professors from Department of International Law proposed several interesting questions to Judge Lee and had a deep discussion with her. The speech also attracted local Chinese LLM students and law professors from the School to come. After the speech, Judge Lee expressed that achievements our international law program got during the past years and our students impressed her very much, she wishes the program will have a greater success in the future.

Table of Contents

1. Governing Law
2. Recognition & Enforcement of Foreign Judgments
3. Customs & Tax Matters